When you are planning a family vacation, it can be difficult to try to please everyone in the family. This is especially a problem when you have children of all ages. There are, however, 3 great vacation spots that offer up activities for children and adults of all ages and interests.

1. Walt Disney World. This vacation spot still continues to be one of the most ideal vacation destinations for families even though it is no secret to anyone. For young children it is the trip of a lifetime getting to see and meet all of the popular Disney characters. The second that young children step foot in Disney World, then they will simply be in heaven. It is also a popular vacation spot of older children because of the exciting rides. You can be sure that they will love all of the theme parks even though they may not be excited about seeing all the Disney characters.

Oahu, Hawaii. Who could argue against a trip to Hawaii? With so much to do on one small island it is a top choice for any family vacation. Regardless if you are young and old, you will have the vacation of a lifetime while playing at Waikiki Beach. For older children, they can venture to the north shore to do some surfing while the entire family can enjoy a tour of Pearl Harbor. Mix in an eco-tour and attending a luau and you have one amazing vacation the entire family will remember forever.

c) Wisconsin Dells, WI. This is a lesser known vacation spot that is a hidden gem and is known as the "Waterpark Capital of the World." Both adults and young children will surely find something they would want to do at one of the many Wisconsin Dells attractions which would include waterparks, amusement parks, go karts, mini golf, scenic tours and live entertainment. Bad weather is not really a threat due to the fact that the family can always head back to one of the numerous Wisconsin Dells resorts that offer indoor waterparks.

Plan a trip to one of the destination above and you will have happy vacationers no matter what the age when it is time to plan for your next family vacation. More importantly, you will make family memories that will last a lifetime.
