The Many Reasons To Visit Panama City Beach

Panama City Beach may be known as one of the most outstanding beaches in the US. Emerald green waters, soft white sands {extending across twenty-seven miles as well as a variety of attractions make Panama City Beach a dream holiday destination. The climate is generally mild and well suited for a soothing beach holiday. In spite of its popularity, the modest beach town is comparatively unspoiled. The town presents various happenings throughout the year, which attract many guests. An interesting story in News Herald revealed that the city will once more hold the Military softball tournament. Sports fanciers can participate in the excitement by going to Panama City Beach.

Military Softball Tournament

Panama City Beach is sponsoring the USSSA (United States Specialty Sports Association) Mens and Womens Military World Softball Tournament following a gap of 3 years. Premier softball teams from many different military groups and installations take part in this annual event. The tournament is being organized at the Back Beach Road Park. The special event kicked off by having an opening ceremony, home-run derby in addition to a slow pitch tournament on Thursday and will continue through Sunday afternoon. This year the tournament will showcase over 70 teams (womens and mens) competing in 4 divisions.

Reported by Richard Sanders, sports marketing vice president for Panama City Beach Convention and Visitors Bureau, the special event is likely to draw close to 6,000 attendees throughout the three day weekend. It is estimated to provide over $1 million to the citys economy. The high concentration of military bases around Panama City Beach like Hurlburt Field and Tyndall Air Force Base has made it a preferred spot for the occasion. The softball tournament was held in the city the very first time in the late 90s. Panama City Beach is organizing the sporting event for the fifth time in 2011.
