Top Dubai Hotels And Gourmet Eating Experiences

Dubai hotels are now the perfect place to enjoy a foodie getaway, as an abundance of celebrity chefs take over the United Arab Emirates. You'll find plenty of inspiration here, from Gordon Ramsay to Nobu Matsuhisa, and Asian to European food. To whet your appetite, we've picked our favourite foodie haunts so you can get making those reservations.

Arabian influences meet Japanese cuisine at the world-renowned chain, Nobu, which is known for its cutting edge style and award winning cuisine. Embracing its new home in spades, it combines an intimate interior with an array of signature dishes by chef Nobu Matsuhisa. The Japanese experience is finished off with a sushi and sake lounge.

The Blue Elephant is regarded as one of the finest Thai restaurants in Dubai and delivers delicious food in a serene setting - with koi carp, exotic flowers and waterfalls to transform this part of the desert into Thailand. Dishes such as Phad Thai and Tom Yam Koong deliver an array of typical Asian flavours.

It doesn't get more stylish, or exciting than the world class fine dining experience served up at The Reflets Par Pierre Gagnaire in one of Dubai's most contemporary hotels - The InterContinental. Bringing together the six-time Michelin-starred French chef Pierre Gagnaire and a décor of pink chandeliers and purple carpets, this is a feast for the eyes as much as your stomach. The views of the marina are as impressive as the artistic cuisine too.

Verre near Dubai Creek, brings another Michelin-starred chef to the area, the restaurant is Gordon Ramsey's first in the UAE. Popular with the area's chic and wealthy, it combines modern European cuisine with a stylish, minimalist décor. If you needed any more excuse to book hotel deals to the Emirates - then the food served up in this restaurant would have to be it - Scottish salmon, lobster ravioli and Bavarian pork belly are amongst the treats offered.
